

Algeria and the disease of the military

-my Allah preserve him-

Al last appeared the skeleton of Bouteflika on TV screens, to confirm to his people and the world that he still breaths Oxygen and hasn't given the spirit, but the dramatic scene in which Bouteflika appeared to us carries big meanings and has connotations that won't take time for it to emerge in the Algerian arena, in months if not in a few weeks.

To understand the image in which Bouteflika appeared on the screens, we should understand its background, so we should return to the beginning of the rule of Bouteflika as a president of Algeria in 1999, fourteen years ago.

The arrival of Bouteflika to the presidency wasn't a result of a struggle of a politician who convinced the Algerians with his program, since he didn't establish a party to do this task, or a scientific or intellectual geniality that gave economic theories that convinced the Algerians to give him a chance to implement and pull them from the lesions of poverty, misery and oppression that became a registered trademark in Algeria, since between him and authoring and theorizing is what is between the east and west, rather he came to answer the call of the military who summoned him to fill the interface nothing more and nothing less, that image perfectly matched this image in which Bouteflika appeared to us Paris with a simple change is persons and locations but the scene is one and the director in both scenes is the ministry of defense.

The arrival of Bouteflika to power 14 years ago from the United Arab Emirates under the supervision of general Larbi Belkheir the representative of the generals and head of the dirty missions (Ahmed) Ouyahia who was prime minister then, and today the same scene is being repeated, in Paris with general Caid Salih head of the generals and current prime minister (Abdelmalek) Sellal, doesn't the coincidence of the two scenes indicate a clear message, which the arrival of the patron of Bouteflika the military to retake the commissioning of the job from Bouteflika in the presence of the prime minister, who's appearance in the picture came to give it the political dimension that is necessary to conceal the white coup, this time not for the fear of an Islamist party reaching to power but for the health conditions of the agent, at least that what appears to the people.

What draws attention behind that scene, is the ministry of defense hastening to deny the accusation of some of the politicians to the military that of closing the political game and imposing a successor to Bouteflika in the corridors of the ministry of defense and reassured their commitment to the constitution and loyalty to Bouteflika, excuse me the skeleton of Bouteflika, and the remains of the constitution which is exposed to plucking when that needed and according to the demand, and denial condemns them more than acquitting them, because assigning the president in Algeria never left the military circle, and the elections paper in this country didn't have any meaning except eluding from administrative harassments as a result of the boycotting of the spurious elections that is directed to the major capitals of the Overseas.

The time has come for the military in general and the generals in particular to know that they are the reason for the ordeal of this nation and its backwardness in all the aspects of life, according to the studies of the governmental and non-governmental organizations, despite they sit on a generous land and walk over treasures, and time has come to know that we can no longer endure their rule and their takeover of our riches and the sustenance of our children, and the future of our generations, so they either understand the historical stage with the Ummah have reached, which is the ejection of the forced compulsive military rule, so they withdraw from the interface and from behind the curtains, and leave this Muslim people to their religion which Allah made them proud with it for centuries, to choose who rules them out of the most pious, pure and qualified or let them wait for an earthquake that leaves naught nor does it spare aught, because our patience have ended and history refuses to go backwards and a word to the wise is enough, and tomorrow is just a day away (and Allah is the master of His affair, but most people do not know).

wa Alhamdulillah Rabbi Alalameen.
